Top Story

English top-flight soccer clubs Chelsea and Liverpool have ended their partnerships with 1xBet, a week after fellow Premier League side Tottenham Hotspur chose to cut ties with the online betting company.

The two clubs had only signed deals with 1xBet in July but have now ended their respective deals with immediate effect after string of allegations against the gambling brand. These included taking bets on children's sports, advertising on illegal websites, cockfighting live streams and promoting a casino featuring topless croupiers. It subsequently suspended its advertising activity in the UK. Both Liverpool and Chelsea had been contacted by the Gambling Commission, the UK's betting regulator, warning them any promotion of 1xBet in the country could be considered unlawful, leading to heavy fines and imprisonment.

Official global betting partner is a significant sponsorship category for Premier League clubs and 1xBet held that designation with Liverpool. Although no figures were reported around the Reds' now-terminated contract, the club's previous deal with BetVictor paid in the region of UK£8 million annually, although that did include sponsorship of the club's training kit.

Sponsorship

Staying in the Premier League, Brighton and Hove Albion have signed a new sponsorship deal with Oliver & Graimes (O&G), the club's creative marketing partner. O&G, which has been a partner at Brighton for ten years, has signed with the club for another two years.

Elsewhere, the Football Association (FA), the national soccer governing body in England, has launched a three-year partnership with the Pokemon Company International to help increase participation in its National Futsal Programme.
