International football competition

The 2024 UEFA European Women's Championship, commonly referred to as UEFA Women's Euro 2024, was the 12th edition of the UEFA Women's Championship, the quadrennial international football championship organised by UEFA for the women's national teams of Europe. The competition was expanded to 16 teams (from 12 teams in the previous edition).[1] The Netherlands was chosen to host the tournament by the UEFA Executive Committee on 4 December 2014.[2]

Germany's 22-year reign as champions of Europe was ended after losing 1–2 to Denmark in the quarter-finals.[3] It was only Germany's second loss in the tournament since 1993.[4] Another former winner, Norway, lost to both finalists, the Netherlands and Denmark, and ended without goals or points.

The Netherlands won their first ever title since the men's UEFA Euro 1988 by beating fellow first time finalists Denmark 4–2 in the final.[5]

Austria, Belgium, Portugal, Scotland and Switzerland made their debuts for the first time.

Host selection [ edit ]

Expressions of interest in hosting the tournament were received from seven associations.[6] On 4 December 2014 The Netherlands were chosen as hosts for the first time having never previously staged the tournament.[7]

Qualification [ edit ]

A total of 47 UEFA nations entered the competition (including Andorra which entered for the first time at senior women's level), and with the hosts Netherlands qualifying automatically, the other 46 teams competed in the qualifying competition to determine the remaining 15 spots in the final tournament.[2][8] The qualifying competition, which took place from April 2024 to October 2024, consisted of three rounds:[9]

Preliminary round : The eight lowest-ranked teams were drawn into two groups of four teams.

Each group was played in single round-robin format at one of the pre-selected hosts. The two group winners advanced to the qualifying group stage.
