Forças de Defesa de Israel mantêm preparação ante possível ataque iraniano

As Forças de Defesa de Israel disseram domingo que suas instruções ao público não mudaram à luz de um possível ataque retaliatório das forças iranianas após o assassinato do líder político do Hamas, Ismail Haniyeh.

Monitoramento contínuo da situação

"As IDF e a estrutura de segurança monitoram nossos inimigos e os desenvolvimentos no Oriente Médio, com ênfase no Irã e Hezbollah, e avaliam constantemente a situação", disse o porta-voz da IDF, Daniel Hagari. "As forças da IDF estão implantadas e preparadas para alta prontidão. Se se tornar necessário alterar as instruções, atualizaremos sobre isso uma mensagem organizada nos canais oficiais."

Avaliação de inteligência israelense

O analista político e de política externa Barak Ravid relatou domingo, de acordo com duas fontes, que a inteligência israelense avaliou que as forças iranianas poderiam estar planejando um ataque "dentro de dias, mesmo antes das negociações de troca de reféns de 15 de agosto".

Uma fonte privada aos detalhes disse a Ravid que a situação ainda é "fluida" e o debate interno no Irã continua. É possível que a tomada de decisão do Irã ainda possa mudar.

Negociações de cessar-fogo à venda

À medida que as negociações de cessar-fogo estão programadas para acontecer esta semana, a ameaça de um ataque do Irã e dos grupos respaldados pelo Hezbollah paira. Os líderes dos Estados Unidos, Qatar e Egito disseram quinta-feira que podem apresentar o que chamam de "proposta final de ponte" esta semana, instando Israel e Hamas a concluir um cessar-fogo e acordo de troca de reféns no Golan.

O escritório do primeiro-ministro israelense Benjamin Netanyahu confirmou que Israel enviará uma delegação para as negociações.

Hamas busca cessar-fogo

Uma fonte israelense familiarizada com o assunto disse no final de semana que os mediadores egípcios e qatariados convêm aos oficiais israelenses nos últimos dias que o líder do Hamas, Yahya Sinwar, deseja um acordo de cessar-fogo. O Hamas disse domingo que pediu aos mediadores que implementem um plano de cessar-fogo com base nas negociações anteriores, como as propostas apresentadas pelo presidente dos EUA, Joe Biden, e o Conselho de Segurança das Nações Unidas em julho.
